BOLD ATTEMPT TO SWINDLE LOCAL BUSINESS MEN

Two Couples Come From Lexington
In Auto And Purchase Several Hundred Dollars' Worth of Goods For Which They Give Spurious Checks On Richmond Banks.—Captured By Harold Oldham's Quick Work.

One of the boldest swindling operations that has been attempted in Richmond in a long time came within an ace of succeeding Tuesday afternoon, when two couples drove over here from Lexington, bought about $300 worth of goods from half a dozen stores, gave spurious checks for them on two local banks and were about to make a getaway when their work was discovered and they were arrested.

Arranged for examining trial in Police Court last night, they gave the names of Floyd McCall, Hattie Hatton, Coy Hatton and Alice McCall. They made no effort to evade the charges against them but pled guilty and were held to the grand jury this morning under $500 bond. Appearing as witnesses against them in seven warrants which were sworn to before Judge Smith, were Harold Oldham, of W. D. Oldham & Sons, Webber Hamilton, of Hamilton Bros., R. J. McKee, Z. T. Rice, of Rice & Arnold, E. V. Elder. They also gave spurious checks to George W. Pickles for a saddle, which they had not taken out, and to T. G. Moberly for harness goods.

But for the suspicious of Miss Elizabeth Adams, saleslady for W. D. Oldham & Co., and the prompt action of Harold Oldham, the swindlers would undoubtedly have made a "clean sweep" and have gotten safely away with little chance of detection, once they had gotten out of Richmond. After buying lavishly, and without seeming to care for the price they paid, they prepared to give Miss Adams a check, and she called attention of Mr. Oldham to it, with significance. He took their checks and immediately began an investigation. Although it was past banking hours, he found Spears Turley, of the State Bank & Trust Company, upon which the women had given checks, signed by "Sallie Johnson," and learned that the checks were suspicious. Mr. Oldham then hurried to find the women. Thinking they would endeavor to get out of town on a train, he and Patrolman John Worrell hastened to the depot, and looked all over the East End of town but were unable to discover them. Coming back to town he met Weber Hamilton, and he told the story and Mr. Hamilton asked if two men were with them. He said that two men and two women had come into Hamilton Bros. store and the men had bought heavily but the women had gone elsewhere. He soon identified the two women and Mr. Oldham continued his search which was quickly rewarded when he discovered them coming out of E. V. Elder's store, their arms full of bundles. They had paid for these with checks on the Citizens' National Bank signed by "Birdie Riddle," amounting to $40.65, which cashier John W. Crooke quickly pronounced spurious.

Mr. Oldham informed the women they would have to go with him. Meanwhile Mr. Hamilton began a search for the men, reinforced by his brother, Shadie Hamilton. They discovered them in an automobile on Second street, just preparing to start it. They took the men in charge and soon had the quartet assembled at Police headquarters with the assistance of Patrolman Will Maupin. News of the attempted swindle spread around town rapidly, and other victims soon appeared. Rice & Arnold had been visited; shoes to the value of $10 bought and a $15 check on the Citizen's Bank signed by "W. F. Thompson" tendered in payment. They asked for and received $5 in cash, after paying for their shoes.

From R. J. McKee's they bought a total of two waists, underwear and shirtwaists to the value of $23.45, giving checks on the State Bank & Trust Company signed by "Sallie Johnson" in payment to Misses Rose Alyerson and Mayne Campbell, who waited on them.

From E. V. Elder they had bought goods to the amount of $40.65, consisting of a silk dress, millinery and silk underwear, tendering a check on the Citizen's Bank, signed by "Birdie Riddle" in payment.

From W. D. Oldham & Co., they had bought two ladies tailor-made suits; two pair of kid gloves, two pair of silk hose, two pair of Oxfords and a silk dress, amounting in all $96.50. One of the women gave a check on the Citizen's Bank for $44 signed "Lena Cassell," and the other gave a check on the State Bank & Trust Company for $52.50, and signed it "Sallie Johnson."

From Hamilton Bros. the men bought a $25 suit, a $35 suit, two pair of $8 shoes, and a $5 hat, tendering checks on the Citizen's Bank, signed "Charles H. Johnson" and "W. F. Thompson." They had even left one pair of trousers here to have them cut to fit one of the men while doing other shopping in town.

Tom J. Moberly, on looking over his check this morning found one for $4.50 for harness, given on the State Bank & Trust Company, signed "Charley H. Johnson," which he soon found to be a "cold" one and he added to the list of victims, although, of course, all secured their goods back as he had been charged.

their car on their return home, and get it as they passed.

The four were lodged in jail immediately they were taken into custody. Police Judge Murray Smith drew seven warrants for the complaining witnesses and held a special term of his court last night at 8 o'clock, to give them an examining trial. Without making the slightest defense, the two men and women pled guilty. When Judge Smith asked them why they had started out on such an expedition one of the women replied:

"It must have been for want of sense."

They claim that they live at 526 Rose street, Lexington and declared that was their first offense of any sort.

Asked about the large touring car in which they came over, they said it is the property of Floyd McCall, who bought it from Barlow Hudson, a second hand auto dealer of Lexington. The women said they were sisters. They said they had parents in Lexington. All of the four appeared in court as if they were frightened at the result their game had brought them. They claimed that they did not come to Richmond until about two o'clock in the afternoon. However, number of business men say that they saw them here early in the morning. They made no effort to buy anything as long as the banks were open, however, and it seems to be the opinion that they came early to reconnoiter the situation, and then in the hope that no effort would be made to investigate the checks they gave.

One of the things about their game that seemed to have fooled most of the local business men and made them accept the checks unquestioned, was that each had a regulation pocket checkbook with other checks stubbed, and in the usual order. All insisted on signing their names in ink and had fountain pens with them.

Judge Smith held them all to the grand jury under $500 bond, which they did not give and went to jail overnight. Their cases were submitted to the grand jury, which brought in indictments immediately. Just before noon, the culprits were haled before Judge Shackelford in circuit court, where they again plead guilty when confronted with the indictments. Judge Shackelford fixed their bail at $500 in each case, and instructed Clerk James W. Wagers to accept real estate bail only so there might be no danger of a cash bond being given and the guilty parties forfeiting it and skipping out.

It was suggested that they might try this afternoon, but one of the men asked that the trials be on May 27th, a date first suggested by the Judge, in order that he might attend to some business. The four seemed to realize that they will soon be within the walls of the Frankfort penitentiary. One of the women cried during their arraignment in circuit court and all seemed deeply depressed.

Few seem to think that they are experienced criminals. The general opinion seems that they are amateurs, who heard of such a game, worked somewhere and thought they would try it in Richmond. They came very nearly succeeding, too.

A man named William Welsh says he is a brother of the two women, came over this morning to investigate the case. He said he was unable to understand the case, as none of the parties had ever been in trouble before. He will endeavor to do their "buying" after banking hours.

The four culprits appear to range in ages from 25 to 35. They have the appearance of being hard working farmers and their appearance is not that of criminals. They told several merchants from whom they were buying, that they were from Brassfield this county.

Looks Like Our Next Congressman

The above is a picture of Judge Charles A. Hardin, of Mercer county, whose formal announcement for the Democratic nomination for Congress to fill the vacancy caused by Harvey Helm's death was made in the Daily Register yesterday. Judge Hardin is already well known in Richmond and Madison county. Of a genial, affable disposition, he quickly makes friends, and will undoubtedly soon become popular on the circuit for he is certain to measure up in every way to the high standards set by other distinguished democrats who have represented Eighth in the House of Representatives of Washington.

Since this country will have no candidate for the honor Judge Hardin seeks, the democrat of old Madison will undoubtedly receive the candidacy of Judge Hardin very kindly. Soon after the death of Congressman Helm, he was called to Circuit Judge W. R. Shackelford as the logical man to succeed Helm and strong pressure was brought to bear upon him. Judge Shackelford, however, soon declared himself of no nomination. He took his work on the circuit bench and that the people of his district are well pleased with him, there isn't the slightest doubt in the world. That he can remain in his present position as long as he desires is as certain as anything in politics. It is a little far in advance to predict, but if there is any opposition to his re-election when his present term has expired, those who have had occasion to do a little investigating will be more inclined to support him than Judge Shackelford has "made so good" on the bench that his friends and admirers knew he would immediately loom up in the halls of Congress and undoubtedly become one of the leading men from Kentucky and a doubtlessly strong senatorial timber at no distant date. However, he set all such aspirations of his friends at rest very quickly—for the time being, anyway.

With Judge Shackelford out of office and generous friends of S. M. Saenger, editor of the Daily Register, urged that he become the candidate from Madison. Never were more enthusiastic and loyal assurances of support given a prospective candidate than the whole nation. With this view the Democrat of Madison and a number of other counties of the district fixed upon the Eighth District of Kentucky in the next few weeks.

MRS. AMANDA MILLION GOES TO HER REWARD

Richmond lost one of its most estimable women late Tuesday, when Mrs. Amanda T. Million, departed this life to enter the better land over there. Mrs. Million had been in a critical condition for several weeks, and every medical attention was given to alleviate her suffering and prolong life that had always been a useful one.

For some time when the Normal School was in its infancy, she filled capably the position of Matron, and won the hearts of both girls and boys who were staying at Memorial Hall. She held a similar position with State University recently, and everywhere she went she made friends, by the score. At one time she was elected Superintendent of Schools of Madison county, receiving a very large per cent of the votes cast.

Besides rearing a family of splendid boys and one daughter, she took an active part in church work, being a life long member of the Christian church. She is survived by three sons, Dr. Emmett Million and Dr. J. B. Million, of this city, Jack Miller, who is now in France, and one daughter, Mrs. Robert Adams, of Louisville, who have the sympathy of a host of friends.

Funeral services will be held at the residence on North street, Thursday afternoon, at two o'clock, conducted by Rev. Homer W. Carpenter. Afterwards her remains will be laid to rest in the Richmond cemetery.

NOTICE

Dr. J. W. Weber, the famous chiropractor foot specialist, will take new patients until July 1, 1919, on account of having such a large class of patients. Dr. Weber has extended the time to July 1st, so everyone who suffers from the feet will be able to see him and have his feet treated. On July 1st will probably be the last he will take any new patients, so be sure and see him before that date. Dr. Weber is in his office at the Oldham building every Thursday from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

STREET ENGINEER GETS DOWN TO WORK

Council and Citizens' Committee Go Over Plans for Paving and Sewer Work—Old Plans Will Help Some.

Col. Sam Crecelius, civil engineer of the regular army, who has been engaged to supervise the paving and street work, has been spending two days going over the city and laying a ground-work for plans which will soon be drawn up. Col. Crecelius met with the City Council and citizens' committee yesterday and after formal discussion, went with them in a body over the principal portions of the city.

The Council formally elected Col. Crecelius as City Engineer to have charge of the work. The city will be 600,000 feet and those who know of his work and the demand for capable, experienced men, say that he is cheap at the figure.

The Council and the Citizens' Committee appointed a special Executive Committee to have direct charge of all operations with "full power to act." The Committee representing the Council is composed of Mayor L. P. Evans and Councilmen C. B. Terrill and F. O'Neill. Representing the Citizens' Committee are Messrs. T. C. Colvin and J. Hale Dean.

Other offices and candidates were: Commissioner of Agriculture, W. S. Hanna, of Shelbyville; and M. C. Rankin of Henry county; for attorney general, Sawyer Smith, of Barbourville, and Charles I. Dawson, of Pineville. For Clerk of the Court of Appeals Roy R. Speck, of Bowling Green; Edward L. Allen, of Prestonsburg, and Leslie Larrimore, of Greensburg.

Republican leaders this afternoon, however, asserted that there will be no contests and indicated that Morrow, Ballard, Craig, Wallace, Colvin, Hanna, Dawson and Speck will be endorsed with a probability that Fred A. Vaughn, of Paintsville, will be endorsed for secretary of state, instead of either Ramey or McCoy. The platform, it was said, will be confined to state issues and not touch national topics.

CONTESTS IN FIVE RACES ARE ON

Republicans State Convention in Session At Lexington Today With Numerous Candidates Seeking Endorsement.

(By Associated Press) Lexington, May 14—With the probability of five contests for party endorsement before it, the Republican state platform convention assembled here today. It is conceded those unopposed will be Edwin P. Morrow, for governor; Thruston Ballard, of Louisville, for lieutenant governor; John J. Craig, of Covington, for auditor; James A. Wallace, of Irvine, for treasurer.

In the race for secretary of state endorsement are J. M. Perkins, of Frankfort; James Ramey, of Eddyville; and J. L. McCoy, of Owingsville.

The withdrawal today of R. P. Green of Bowling Green, for the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction, leaves the race between George Colvin, of Springfield, and F. David Perkins, of Harlan.

Other offices and candidates were: Commissioner of Agriculture, W. S. Hanna, of Shelbyville; and M. C. Rankin of Henry county; for attorney general, Sawyer Smith, of Barbourville, and Charles I. Dawson, of Pineville.

Col. Crecelius went over plans for a main street sewerage system in Richmond, as outlined by Chicago engineers several years ago, for the city offers a plan which is simple and workable, and said that other outlines of street grades and plans which have been drawn up before, will facilitate the work greatly. He will make a survey and draw up plans as quickly as possible, with such suggestions as he can.

The tentative proposition discussed as to street paving is for paving of Main street from the bridge on the Lexington pike to the court house, Second and Third streets, and then others if possible. These plans are merely tentative as yet, and definite and complete plans will not be adopted finally until Col. Crecelius has full opportunity to investigate all conditions.

BIG SWINDLING GAME UNEARTHED

(By Associated Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., May 14.—The story of the machinations of an alleged syndicate of swindlers whose cunning may rival that of the notorious Maybray gang is being slowly unfolded by federal authorities here. Meanwhile 12 men charged with being members of the syndicate which had its headquarters at Muncie, Ind., are under arrest for using the mails to defraud.

The investigation has progressed far enough to convince federal authorities that the gang gleaned a huge fortune from wealthy men of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, and Missouri, and then sealed the lips of victims by staging a "fatal" prize fight. L. Ert Slack, United States attorney, has not made public the names of the victims.

The chief trick of the gang was to make an acquaintance and then whisper of a proposition involving purchase of real estate from an Englishman, whose dishonest secretary was fighting the property go for a sum far under its real value.

The victim is induced to get $10,000 cash, and the "Englishman" is introduced, but just before closing the deal of the Englishman, a great lover of sports, decides to go away to attend a sporting event. To keep him present a boxing match is arranged.

The coming contest creates great interest and those on the inside learn that it is to be a "fixed" event. The victim enters the inner circle; he sees thousands of dollars pass hands; he is even made stockholder for a night; the pot keeps growing, sometimes reaching $200,000, before the victim himself decides to take a "flier."

The money put in a bag is taken to the ringside. After a few rounds one fighter is knocked out. He bleeds profusely; chicken blood being used, and then it is announced amid great excitement that the fighter is dead. There is a hurried conference concerning a probable murder charge; one seizes the money bag and calling to the others to meet him tomorrow, departs in great haste. The victim is solemnly cautioned to remain quiet.

After a time he is informed that the money was used to fix the authorities. In some cases the victim has even furnished additional funds to gain "freedom," authorities say.

Names of eleven of the twelve men under arrest have been announced. They are Elmer Boucher, Arthur Betts, Joseph W. Engleton, Ross E. McDonald, Hugh McGann, alias H. McGinnis, Henry Schober, Edward Daniel Siler, Chaucey Stillson, Marion Jamks, Lafayette S. Scott, alias Sloan, alias W. H. K. Pearson, and William R. Collins, alias George Armstrong, alias James C. Carlton. Collins is alleged to have been the "brains" of the syndicate.

The alleged syndicate was uncovered by post office inspectors investigating complaints of unauthorized use of letter heads of a big business concern.

SUBMARINE COAL MINING

Halifax, N. S. May 14—Submarine coal mining may be attempted in the areas north of Sydney Harbor, to Nova Scotia and for some distance south of Sydney Harbor, through proposed legislation now before the Nova Scotia law makers. Leases to certain submarine mining districts have been held by the Dominion Coal Company and the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company. For some time there has been a dispute between these concerns regarding leasing privileges.

The proposed legislation would give mining rights in the submarine area to the Dominion Company with the understanding that operations would start as soon as possible.

FRANK BARNETT

BUYS BUILDING

The building on First street at present occupied by the Daily Register, was sold yesterday by A. Dobrowsky to Frank Barnett. The price while not made public is a good one, for the location is splendid and every way.

But except for the fact that it is not quite large enough for the requirements of the Daily Register, would not be relinquished by it. Mr. Barnett gets possession as soon as the Daily Register can be moved to its new home now in the rear of the building on First street.

It is understood that he will enter business himself in the building. Few young men in Richmond have had a more successful career than the buyer.

Mr. Barnett recently sold out his progressive business, if he opens a tobacco warehouse, at a handsome profit, and has been looking out for a location since.

He is a hustler and progressive, and if he opens a business at his new purchase, will command a large patronage from the start. The deal was conducted by Real Estate Agent L. P. Evans.

53 INDICTMENTS

BY GRAND JURY

There was little doing in circuit court Tuesday, arguments on several cases being heard by Judge Shakesford. The grand jury reported a total of 53 indictments this morning, including those against the check swindlers from Lexington. A number of the who are accused of the indictments have not yet been arrested so that their names were not made public by Circuit Clerk Wagers. The list of offenses charged runs all the way from murder to racing a horse on a public highway. Other charges are 11 against local poolroom operators for shooting, making noise, pool assault and battery, selling liquor to minors, breach of the peace, house-breaking, attempt to poison another, disturbing religious worship, obtaining goods by false pretenses, shooting on a public highway, carrying a deadly weapon concealed, malicious cutting and unlawful sale of alcoholic liquors.

PLANNING SALE

OF BLAIR PARK

Members of the Wakefield-Davis Realty Company, of Shivelyville, are in town looking over plans for sub-dividing "Blair Park," recently bought from Mrs. J. W. Caperton into a handsome residence addition. Members of the firm here are Misses Wm. P. Randolph, Mrs. Mary Randolph, and Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Rose. Plans have been made, it is understood, to make this one of the most attractive residence sub-divisions to be found anywhere. The large tract is most attractively located and naturally offers the opportunity to provide a number of beautiful building lots. Full details and plans of the new owners will doubtless be announced at an early date and are being eagerly awaited.

VICTORY GIRLS'

PLAY AT NORMAL

One of the most charming little plays ever given in Richmond, was seen at the Normal auditorium, Monday evening, when the Camp Fire Girls, under the direction of the talented Miss Ruth Hardin, of E. K. S. N. Expression Debutante, and directed by Miss Jeanette Pates, Camp Fire Girls, presented "The Twig of Thorn," an Irish fairy play. Lucia Bennett as Oonah, and Carolyn Rice as Aengus, her peasant sweetheart, were remarkable in the portrayal of their parts and charmed the audience with the sweetness of their scenes together.

Nessa, the old grandmother, and Maury, "her neighbor for sixty years," as taken by Elizabeth Shearer and Mary Elizabeth Nixon, showed unusual ability. As both the characters were very difficult ones for such young girls to assume, yet were splendidly represented by both. Georgia Smith, as Aileen, the poet, seemed made for the part she so gracefully took.

Dolly Pickels, as the fairy leader of Sidhe, charmed her audience with the beauty and grace of her primrose dance. Olivia Colver, Marie Langford, and Maude E. Finsbury as Tumulus, deserve especial mention for the splendid representation of their parts and looked unusually pretty in their peasant garb. Miss Brown Telford, with her usual gracious readiness to assist others, added much to the beauty of the play with the music of her harp.

Bitter or Better Baking

A letter makes a great difference in a word. A word makes a great difference in baking powders.

If the little word "alum" appears on the label it may mean bitter baking.

If the word ROYAL stands out bold and strong, it surely means BETTER baking.

This is only one reason why it pays to use

Velvet THE SMOOTHEST SMOKING TOBACCO

Smoke over your problems. A little drawin' on a fren'ly pipe often saves a heap of drawin' on a bank account.

Velvet Joe

Velvet is a friendly tobacco in the truest sense, because, like friendship, it has been allowed to ripen naturally—nothing forced or unnatural.

There are "hurry up" ways with tobacco but only patient ageing (two years in wooden hogsheads) can bring out the mellowness that sets Velvet apart.

You know what mellowness is—now think of a good friend who is never harsh to you.

There you have the big thing about Velvet—mellow friendliness.

You and Velvet—begin your friendship today.

Tired, Overworked Mothers What You Need is Vinol

War conditions have made the demand upon a mother's time and energy unlimited. In their zeal to do all in their power for their loved ones, they continually overwork and are soon in a nervous, run-down condition. Vinol, the non-secret cod liver and iron tonic, will build you up and make you strong.

Whitman, Mass.

"I suffered from a nervous, run-down condition and loss of strength so it was hard for me to get around and do my work. After other medicines had failed to help me Vinol restored my health and strength and I heartily recommend it to anyone suffering from a nervous, run-down condition." —Mrs. R. M. Little.

Cleveland, Ohio.
"I keep house for my husband and myself and got into a weak, run-down condition, no strength, languid and no ambition. After doctoring for awhile and getting no better I tried Vinol and to my surprise it built me up and strengthened my whole system. It is certainly a good tonic." —Mrs. Wm. D. Dawson.

OVER MILLION ACRES OF WHEAT IN KENTUCKY

The Bureau of Crop Estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture makes the following report on crop conditions in Kentucky today: Kentucky has passed the million-acre mark in her wheat acreage and now has 1,046,000 acres left for harvest, as the crop came through the winter in such excellent condition that only 1 percent of the big acreage sown last fall was plowed up for other crops. Its unusually excellent condition, 102 percent, now promises a crop of 15,257,000 bushels if no serious injury occurs before harvest. Last year at this time the condition was 101 percent, while the ten average condition is 86 percent. The entire United States winter wheat crop now shows a condition of 100.5 percent compared to 86.4 percent.

cent May 1, 1918, while the total acreage is 48,719,129 compared to 36,704,000 acres last year. This indicates a probable crop of 889,915,000 bushels of winter wheat alone, compared to 558,449,000 bushels produced last year.

Rye and hay in Kentucky now shows acreages slightly less than last year, rye 61,750 acres which is 5 percent decrease, and hay 1,050,560 acres, which is 2 percent decrease. Condition of rye is now 100 percent and hay 95 percent compared to 93 percent and 96 percent, respectively, this time last year. Kentucky farmers report 13 percent of last year's hay crop still on farms compared to an average of 9.4 percent for the entire United States.

Farm work is now unevenly advanced in this state, the farmers reporting 75 percent of plowing and 48 percent of planting done by May 1 compared to 75 percent and 40 percent May 1, 1918. Some sections are well advanced while others are badly delayed by wet weather. Pastures show a condition of 92 percent compared to 91 percent May 1, last year.

Livestock came through the winter in good condition both in Kentucky and the United States as a whole. Spring lambs are doing well, though occasionally farmers report serious losses.

WANT EUBANK JURY TO PETITION FOR PARDON

Porter Eubank, former Deputy U. S. Marshall, who was sentenced to serve ten years in the penitentiary for the murder of City Clerk H. M. Ringo, of Mt. Sterling, will soon go to the penitentiary to serve his sentence, unless he should be pardoned by the governor. An effort has been made to induce the members of the jury from this county to sign a petition asking his pardon. It is understood that 10 members of the jury have signed the petition, but two have refused to do so. One who refused to sign the petition told the Daily Register that he would never sign it unless he could be shown some reason why the verdict of the jury was a mistake, and he had not changed his views on the subject. Eubank has been confined in the Montgomery county jail since his trial and will be taken to Frankfort to begin his sentence as soon as the mandate of the appellate court is received in Mt. Sterling, which will be within a few weeks.

Three railway policemen for the Cincinnati, New Orleans, & Texas Pacific railroad were appointed by Governor Stanley. They are: B. W. Hubbard, of Georgetown, D. A. Davis of Somerset, and J. W. Higginbotham of Luretha.
